

pointSixtyFive

Thinking about advertising?

pointSixtyFive started in mid-2016, and has quickly become the largest, most popular Air Traffic Controller site on the internet.

- ▶ Over 600 registered users visit the site daily
- ▶ On average, 10,000+ unique visitors/month
- ▶ About 400,000 page views per month
- ▶ Highly-targeted user base

A good user experience is paramount; an informative, easy to use, visually appealing site is the best way to attract, retain, and engage visitors. One way we do that is by limiting the number and placement of ads on the pages.

There are several predefined ad types and placements available to choose from, ranging from the standard banner ads, text links inserted into content, auto-linked keywords within user generated content, or promoted advertiser content.

You can view available ad types and prices by clicking the "advertise" link in the footer of any page. After registering, it can also be accessed from the user account menu. If you have any questions, email mj@pointsixtyfive.com or use the contact form on the site. Thank you for your consideration.
